OVERMAN MAKES ROUSING SPEECH

Heard by Appreciative Audience Last Night.

Proximity Hall Crowded With Democrats of Mill Villages—Protection Means a Burden For the Laboring People, Said Senator Overman—Said Republicans Were Enemies of Laboring Man—County Candidates Announce Themselves.

It was a large and enthusiastic crowd of Democrats from the three mill villages that heard with marked enthusiasm a telling speech by United States Senator Lee S. Overman at Proximity last night. The hall over the Proximity store was crowded, special cars being used to bring over the Democrats of Revolution and White Oak.

People of the mill villages believe in the adage "early to bed and early to rise," but, despite the fact that Senator Overman spoke for two hours, they gave him the closest attention and at the conclusion cheered him to the echo. Hundreds gathered to shake hands with the Senator after the speech. And truly i was an able effort. Senator Overman spoke with a tone of conviction that all the more impressed his hearers. Then too he has the happy faculty of saying the right thing at the proper moment to make it all the more impressive.

Senator Overman began by saying that he was glad to look into the faces of wage-earners, bread-winners—men for whose rights the Democratic party is fighting. The Republican party is trying to centralize the government, he said, by putting it in the hands of a few; by allowing the monied interests to dominate the party leaders. The Democratic party is trying to prevent this. It believes that the government should be of the whole people, by the whole people and for the whole people and that the laborer should have just as much sayso as the millionaire. The speaker pointed out that other countries are overthrowing centralized governments, while the Republicans are trying to centralize ours.

The speaker turned to State affairs and pointed out the disgraceful condition of affairs 12 years ago when the Republicans were last in power, negro officers walking the streets and crimes so numerous that no girl could walk the street unprotected. Senator Overman challenged any Republican to say he was proud of the record his party had made during past administrations. He then pointed out the progress made under Democratic rule in the State. He told of the advent of a man who, while Senator had conspired to have his state sued to secure payment of certain bonds and later had attempted to collect bonds that the people of the state had repudiated. And he is at the head of the Republican party in this State. "Name him I will not for you all know him," he declared amid loud applause.

Two years ago you were promised that if Taft was elected the mills would run on full time. Have they done it, asked the speaker. He pointed out the fact that because of the tariff wall other countries cannot sell their products here and therefore they will not buy of us. He said that if the tariff wall was lowered so other countries could come in and sell their products they would buy much they now buy from other countries, cotton goods especially. Then the mills would have to run on full time and then they would be rushed to fill orders. Then the Republicans claim they are the friends of labor, but are they? he asked. If they are why do they bring in millions of foreigners who can afford to work for much less than Americans so they are given employment in the mills and the American workman has to roam the streets in search of employment. Does this look like they are friends of the laboring classes? he argued.

Taking up the tariff tax Senator Overman handled this usually dry subject in a most entertaining manner. The consumer pays the tax and instead of going to the government it goes directly into the pockets of the trusts, he said. The protective tariff simply enables great trusts to enrich themselves off the masses and the people are powerless to help themselves, and in fact they are only beginning to realize the great injustice being done. He pointed out the fact that the last Congress revised the tariff upward instead of downward. On articles used by the wealthy the revision was downwards while on articles used by the masses the revision was upwards. He said that the tariff on glass alone cost the people of High Point $200,000 a year. Taking a woolen blanket for example the speaker said if one could be manufactured and sold for $2.50 the tariff was such that foreign blankets could not be sold for less than $5. So the home maker, a trust, added the price of the tariff and the consumer paid it or went without the blanket.

Senator Overman said that the great trusts were at present dominating the government, that the Republicans were held under the thumbs of the trusts powerless to do anything to relieve the people for fear of their masters.

The Democratic party is trying to protect the people from this state of affairs, said Senator Overman. He urged that every man ponder over the facts and then help protect the rights of the people from the injustice of helping the rich at the expense of the people—the ones who need helping.

The county candidates were out and they announced themselves prior to Senator Overman's speech, being introduced by Capt. Hobgood, candidate for State Senator, who also introduced Senator Overman.

ELON COLLEGE NOTES.

President Moffitt Returns From Ohio—Dr. Atkinson Attends East Virginia Conference.

Elon College, Nov. 4.—President Moffitt returned last Saturday from the American Christian Convention, which met in Troy, Ohio, and on Monday of this week left for the East Virginia Christian Conference, which meets in Norfolk, Va., with the Main Street Christian church, of which the Rev. M. L. Bryant is pastor. Dr. Moffitt will address this conference on the subject "Elon College and the Future of the Christian Church." While attending these various religious bodies President Moffitt is also working in the interest of the endowment of $50,000 which he undertook to raise and of which he raised $15,000 before he was taken sick last April.

Dr. J. O. Atkinson, editor Christian Sun, and publishing agent of the Southern Christian Convention, is also attending the sessions of the East Virginia Conference and will address the body on the theme "Reaching the Reached and Saving the Saved."

Rev. J. W. Wellons is also attending the sessions of this body in the interest of the Theological Chair in the College of which he is agent and also to extend the market for a book which he has recently published on the history of the Wellons family, this family having originated in the territory covered by the East Virginia Conference.

DEATH OF MISS PHOENIX

Sister of Well Known Greensboro Man Passes Away In South Carolina.

Miss Annie Louise Phoenix, sister of Mr. John J. Phoenix, died in South Carolina Thursday night. The body will arrive in Greensboro this morning and be taken to the residence of Mr. Phoenix, on Summit avenue. The funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. conducted by Rev. Melton Clark, and the burial will follow at Green Hill cemetery.

Social At Pomona.

The social at Pomona Graded school last evening, given by the Woman's Betterment Association, was a most enjoyable affair. A goodly number of patrons of the school and others attended and about $50 was realized from the sale of oysters. This fund will be applied on the purchase of a piano for the school.

Notice Juniors and Baracas.

The members of White Oak Council, Junior Order, and of the Baraca class of White Oak Baptist church are requested to meet at McPherson's store, Summit avenue, this afternoon at three o'clock, prompt, to attend the funeral of Bro. Jesse Kingleman.

Defendants Discharged.

In Municipal Court yesterday morning Pinkney Lee, Jesse Reid, Julius Hamlin and Buck Green, four negro boys, were arraigned on the charge of receiving goods knowing them to have been stolen. After hearing the evidence the boys were acquitted of the charge.

The Arts and Handicrafts Shop.

The Arts and Handicrafts Shop will be open Tuesday and Saturday afternoons in November from 3:30 to 6 o'clock. 4t

DISCUSS HEALTH AND SANITATION

Subject For Teachers Meeting on Nov. 12.

Members of Medical Society Invited To Be Present and Participate In Discussion—County Superintendent Foust Urges That All Teachers and School Committeemen Attend If Possible.

The Guilford County Teachers' Association will meet in the court house on next Saturday, Nov. 12. County Superintendent Foust yesterday sent out the following letters which are self-explanatory:

To the White Teachers and School Committeemen:

"The next meeting of the Guilford County Teachers' Association will be held in the court house in Greensboro on Saturday, Nov. 12th, beginning at 10 o'clock.

"During our Teachers' Institute last summer, it was decided that the whole meeting be devoted to a discussion of sanitation and health. The basis of the meeting will be Ritchie's "Primer of Sanitation," which the teachers have been studying for the past two months, and the bulletins on health which have been sent from the Department of Education.

"Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the State Board of Health, will be with us and take an important part in the meeting. I am also going to notify the members of the Guilford County Medical Society to meet with us. I feel that the subject is of so much importance should be discussed in the presence of as large a number of the people of the county as possible, and Ihope that you will notify the patrons of your school district to meet with us.

"Hoping to have you present, and with best wishes, I am."

"To the Members of the Guilford County Medical Society:

"The Guilford County Teachers' Association will meet in the court house in Greensboro on Saturday, Nov. 12, at 10 o'clock. During our institute last summer, it was unanimously decided that our first meeting of the association be devoted entirely to the question of sanitation and health. Knowing that each member of the Medical Society is vitally interested in this question, I am writing this as a special invitation for you to meet with us on that occasion. I have attended the last two meetings of the Guilford County Medical Society, and I know that your society is going to do all that it can to promote better sanitation in the county, and thereby improve the health of our people.

"It seems to me that the task that we have to perform is largely a question of education of the children in our public schools, and also the people in the various school districts. At the meeting of the association I hope that we can formulate some definite plan by which the public school teachers, with the assistance of the medical profession, can best serve the interest of the various communities along this line.

"We will appreciate your presence at our meeting very much, and I hope that you can give to the teachers some valuable suggestions as to the best plan to be pursued. Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the State Board of Heatlh, has promised to meet with us, and he will address the association at 11 o'clock.

"I appreciate the courtesies that have been extended to me, as a representative of the public welfare, by the Medical Society of this county, and I believe that co-operation between the Medical Society and the teachers will result in much better sanitary conditions in the county."

Reception To Normal Students.

Last night at the home of the pastor, Rev. R. G. Kendrick, the members of Forest Avenue Baptist church gave a most enjoyable reception in honor of the Normal students who attend services at the church. More than fifty of the young ladies were present and the affair was one of pleasure for all. The house had been decorated for the occasion with roses, chrysanthemums, carnations and ferns. Refreshments, consisting of chicken salad, doughnuts and coffee, were served.

R. L. England has had two big auction sales at Gibsonville this week and closed out a large stock of furniture and will conduct another sale there tonight. 1t

LARGE AUDIENCE IN FLOWERLAND

Performance Affords Real Pleasure.

Much Credit Due to Miss Moorman and Mrs. Willson — Children Superbly Trained—Singing Particular Feature —Attractive Debutantes in Leading Roles—Striking, Unique, Dainty Costumes—Little Mae Willson Real Star —Second and Last Performance This Evening At 8:30 O'clock.

The Daughters of the Confederacy are indeed to be congratulated upon the unusual success of last evening's performance of "Fete in Flowerland." The audience was large and enthusiastic, as Greensboro people always are when their own children and friends are given an opportunity to demonstrate their dramatic ability and to display their talents in the interest of a good cause.

It is no platitude to say that Miss Moorman is one of the most successful women in the training of children for public entertainments that have as yet come into our midst. There were children, seemingly hundreds of them, large, small, and of all ages; and every act, from beginning to end, was performed with skill and with that evidence of superb training that reflects much credit upon the masterly tutors, Miss Moorman and Mrs. Willson.

There were Rosebuds, Lilies, Buttercups, and other flowers, in which were set the beautiful, innocent faces of little children and modest maidens, all making together an enchanting picture.

Little Miss Frances Harrison, the star in the first act, deserves especial mention, as well, also, as do the Fairies, Misses Emma Blake and Cathleen Price.

The audience enjoyed greatly the "Quarrel of the Buttercups," in which act two youthful rivals quarrelled over their sweethearts, who finally settled the dispute by making an exchange and marching off amid great applause.

One of the very best acts of the evening was the "Pantomime of the Rosary" composed by Miss Moorman in which appeared about thirty of Greensboro's most beautiful young women, all gowned in Greek costumes. The "Rosary," by Nevin, was sung with feeling and with clear and distinct enunciation by Miss Gonzella Byrne, while the young ladies, with rhythmic gestures and skilful movements, made a most impressive scene in their portrayal of the song as it was being rendered. This act was roundly applauded.

"Consider the Lilies" was particularly fine, in both the acting and the singing, the little soloists deserving especial praise.

Miss Moorman recited several selections in a superb and characteristic manner, which shows her to be a real genius in her chosen work. Her rendition of "The Nigger Weddin" and "But She Didn't" were immensely enjoyed and called forth much applause.

"The Dance of the Roses, participated in by those same charming maidens who pantomimed the Rosary, was a most enjoyable feature of the evening's performance; the costumes worn by the young ladies, with parasols to match, were most happily chosen and arranged for this act, and were perhaps the most beautiful of the evening; this act was loudly applauded and encored.

Mrs. Willson and Miss Maie Lindley were seen in the "Spanish Dance;" this many considered the star act of the entertainment. It was indeed much better than some professional performances seen here, and the audience gave evidence of its genuine pleasure and enjoyment by recalling the ladies again and again.

But preeminently the star actress of the second part was little Miss Willson, who is indeed a remarkably talented child. She is not more than six years of age, and marched on the stage with her cane, in imitation of the coon sport, sang coon songs and acted with as much naturalness, self-confidence, and ingenuity as if she had been Mae Erwin herself. She was uproarously applauded; indeed, the audience would not consent to let her stop until she had sung herself hoarse.

The Last Rose of Summer, by Mrs. Willson, and the Coon Song, by the Dutch Kids were the last numbers on the program, but were certainly among the very best.

The concluding performance will be given tonight at 8:30 o'clock, and it is to be hoped that the house will again be filled. Citizens of progressive Greensboro do well to patronize these most excellent entertainments, for it can be truthfully said that those who love innocent fun and amusement need not offer as an excuse for their presence that they are merely in attendance to help a worthy cause. The performance is well worth the money.

The Prices Reduced.

Although the managers of the entertainment feel that it is worth a great deal more, by special request the prices have been reduced for tonight to 25, 50 and 75c.

Miss Moorman will give new readings tonight and little Fontaine Willson will also give new numbers.

IN SUPERIOR COURT.

Verdict For Plaintiff In Case of Lyndon Creagh vs. Public Service Company.

In Guilford Superior Court yesterday morning the jury returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff $350 in the case of Lyndon Creagh, by his next friend, vs. N. C. Public Service Company. Ten thousand dollars was the amount asked for.

A non-suit was taken in the case of W. O. Jones vs. L. L. Hobbs, et al. This case, which was taken up Thursday afternoon, was regarding the sale of land to the North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends in 1883. The plaintiff alleged that only one acre was sold, while the deed conveyed eight acres. The mistake was not discovered until a few years ago. It developed in the trial that the parties with whom the transaction was made were dead and for this reason the court ruled that the plaintiff could not relate the conversation that occurred or give the details of the transaction. So a non-suit was taken.

The jury was discharged for the term yesterday, but court will convene this morning to dispose of several minor cases and to sign judgments.

Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Euterpe Club, which was to have been held this afternoon in the studio of Miss Phyllis Woodall, has been postponed until next Saturday afternoon.

MARION BUTLER DENIES CHARGES

Spoke Four Hours in Raleigh Yesterday.

Declared That He Had Nothing To Do With the Advertisement Which Appeared In New York Papers—Personal Attacks on Senator Simmons and Editor Daniels Most Scathing Ever Heard In Campaign—Why Democrats Would Not Meet Him.

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—From 1:30 to 5:30 o'clock this afternoon Ex-United States Senator Marion Butler talked to a crowd that filled the opera house, discussing briefly some political issues in this State and then answering charges that have been made against him. His personal attacks on Editor Daniels and Senator Simmons were the most scathing this caustic speaker could make and probably were never equaled in a North Carolina campaign. "Lying cowardly scoundrels" is among his mildest characterizations. He explained he had challenged either or both to meet him today.

Getting down to bond matters he pronounced the charges against him willful lies, explaining that the South Dakota bonds were an honest debt. He had considered it no improper act to become counsel for the collection of these bonds two weeks before his term as United States Senator expired. As to the advertisement in the New York Post and other papers for "repudiated" bonds, he said the advertisement was gotten up by other counsel and when he saw what bonds were being gotten together through this advertisement he refused to have anything to do with them. He read a letter he wrote Coler and Company, of New York, advising their having nothing to do with them, saying "If an attempt is made to collect these bonds I not only will not be employed, but I would oppose such effort." He read a telegram from ex-Senator Pettigrew, stating he had been shown by Judge Hole, of Coler and Company, this letter of Marion Butler's, dated Jan. 1906, in which he refused to have anything to do with the collection of any Southern State bonds that were not honest and for which such State had not received par value. Butler pictured prominent Democrats of that period inspiring and profiting by fraudulent bonds and held up a copy of what he termed a "suppressed" report of a later bond investigating committee and said that the reading of it would strike consternation to the hearts of members of many prominent Democratic families in the State. Since the issue has been so viciously pressed by Democratic campaigners he proposed, he said, to see to it that this volume is reprinted and circulated in North Carolina.

Then Butler opened up on Editor Josephus Daniels and Senator Simmons. With personal ridicules he gave Senator Overman a vicious denunciation for his attacks on him (Butler), and declared that he hated to drag the dead into conflict. There were reasons why Overman would not meet him, he said. One was the entanglement of Overman's kinspeople in repudiated bond frauds. They were pressing this bond fight on him now and if it was kept up "there would be such rattling of dry bones in graveyards of various prominent families as would spread consternation among them indeed." He closed with a recitation of the vast amount of work he says he still does for North Carolina at Washington without charge.

His defense of his attitude as to the fraudulent State bonds was principally the presentation of correspondence in which he told the Carlysle syndicate and Colore and Company he would have nothing to do with the "fraudulent Carolina bonds" gathered through advertisements and that through his presentation of the fraudulent conditions by which these special tax bonds were secured John G. Capers declined to be of counsel for suing the State for them. In denouncing Senator Simmons he read the famous Chas. N. Vance letter to Dr. J. W. Faison giving the denunciation of Senator Simmons by his father, Senator Zeb Vance, in fighting his confirmation as internal revenue collector.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

PAINTS NEW CHRIST.

Woman Artist Draws Likeness From Contemporary.

The chance whim of a Roman senator who happened to be making a pilgrimage 1,900 years ago through Palestine has led to an entirely new representation of the Christ. The senator, by name Lentulus Justinian, saw the Nazarene, and was so impressed by the great teacher that he wrote a letter back to the Roman senate describing the appearance of Him in whom, even at that early stage in His career, he saw a menace to Rome and paganism, says the New York American.

That letter was preserved by a Greek historian, and eventually fell into the hands of Rene Menard, the French scholar. M. Menard incorporated the letter in his "Historic Beau Art," published almost half a century ago.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Tillinghast, the foremost woman artist in America, picked up Menard's book while on a visit to France some years ago, and read Lentulus' letter, which M. Menard had translated with painstaking accuracy into modern French. Immediately the idea of a new Christ came to Miss Tillinghast, and she found a practical opportunity for the idea to bear fruit when she received an order for a panel entitled, "The Resurrection" for the Central Congregational church in Toledo, O.

The complete picture represents Christ just after the resurrection. Mary Magdalene is at the right of the elliptical composition, and the Angel of the Broken Sepulchre at the left.

Here is the letter from Lentulus to the Senate, giving the description which the artist has utilized:

".....At this time there appeared a man who is still living and is endowed with great power. His name is Jesus Christ. His Disciples call Him the Son of God. Others regard Him as a powerful prophet. He raises the dead to life and heals the sick of all sorts of diseases and infirmities. This man is tall and well proportioned. His expression is severe and full of virtue. Merely gazing at Him, one fears and loves Him. The hair of His head is the color of wine, and from crown to ears straight and brilliant. From ears to shoulder full and curly. His hair is divided into two parts after the manner of the Nazarene. His forehead is broad and smooth.

"His face is without a mark, and bears a slight flush. His nose and mouth are irreproachable. His beard is abundant and in color the same as His hair. His eyes are blue and very brilliant. His speech amiable and convincing. His expression grave and marvelously gracious. No one has even seen Him laugh a single time, but he has been seen to weep. He has charming hands and arms. His hands are straight and long and His arms delightful. He is grave and measured in His discourse, conservative of speech. His face is that of the most beautiful of the children of men."

Miss Tillinghast's conception of Christ is masculinely unconventional. Her conception also of Mary Magdalene is unusual. In Miss Tillinghast's panel the human Mary is rendered human. There is expression in every line of the face that is turned so earnestly in the direction of her Savior. Mary is shown kneeling and bearing the bowl of spice with which she had come to embalm the body of her Master.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. Mrs. Julius Harburger, wife of Tammany Leader Julius Harburger, gave a "kaffee-klatch" at her residence, 67 St. Mark's place, yesterday. There were present Mrs. William Sulzer, wife of the Congressman, who lives in the district; Mrs. Sohmer, wife of Alderman Sohmer and daughter-in-law of William Sohmer, candidate for State Comptroller, and Mrs. Spielberg, wife of Tammany Assemblyman Spielberg.

"I called this klatch," announced Mrs. Harburger, "so that while we are sipping our coffee we might discuss the most effective means of promoting the candidacies of our husbands or relatives running for office."

"Excellent, excellent," assented Mrs. Sulzer. "Although my husband has been a Congressman for 12 years, this is the first time he has had a wife to assist him. And if I do say so myself, he will get the biggest majority he ever had."

"I have a motion to make," said Mrs. Sohmer.

"Oh, what is it?" asked all in chorus.

"I have a list of 400 men who have promised me to vote for my father-in-law, and I move that I divide it with the rest of you, so that you can see them, too."

The motion carried unanimously and another round of coffees was ordered.

Jimmy Oliver, the "Prince of Paradise Park," is now assured that he will have the woman suffragists with him. At the last session of the Legislature it was claimed that he had not extended the proper courtesies to a woman suffrage delegate; if so, he has made amends. Yesterday Jimmy, with the high silk hat which he always wears, winter and summer, climbed up the stairways of the tenements in Chrystie street, and in heart to heart talks warmly espoused the cause. It all went well until he struck Mrs. Casey at her washtub on the top floor.

"Sure, Mrs. Casey," he said, "times will be better when the women have a vote. You won't have to work so hard when you can help to make the laws. Since you can't be elected this year yourself, you can't do better than tell your husband to vote for the friends of the movement."

"And what is you be afthertalking about, Mr. Oliver?"

"I was referring to woman suffrage," replied Oliver.

At this Mrs. Casey became very indignant.

"Is it daffy you think me, Mr. Oliver? Faith, and I have a plinty to do without sticking my nose in men's affairs. Now that I know where you stand, you don't get me husband's vote."

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Howard Gardner.

Hexamethylenetetramine.

Is the name of a German chemical, one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and anti-septic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy promptly at the first sign of kidney trouble and avoid a serious malady. Howard Gardner.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

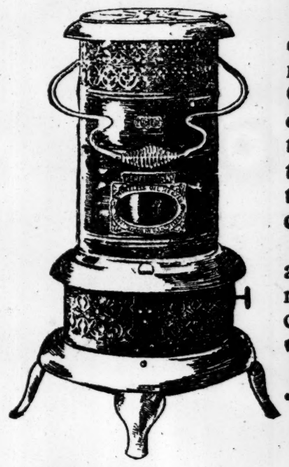
Dry Your Clothes on a Wet Washday

With a New Perfection Oil Heater



When clothes can't be hung outside, and must be dried in a room or cellar, the New Perfection Oil Heater quickly does the work of sun and air. You can hang up the wet clothes, light your Perfection Oil Heater, open the damper top, and the heat rises and quickly dries the clothes.

Do not put off washing to await a sunny day in order to avoid mildew. Dry your washing any day with hot air from a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and can always be easily unscrewed for rewicking.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not need to be screwed down, but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. Finished in japan or nickel, strong and durable, well-made, built for service and yet light and ornamental. It has a cool handle and a damper top.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

He Was Too Enthusiastic.

Hank Dobbs was noted as an "honest" horse trader. He would not lie about a horse. He would merely suppress the truth. Incidentally he always beat the customer who dealt with him. The way he could slur over the defects and buzz about the virtues of an animal amounted to genius.

Once Hank was trying to sell a neighbor a horse that had an eye which was nearly sightless. The neighbor knew Hank would not lie outright to him, so he questioned the horse trader as to the various points of the brute.

"How about his eyesight? Can he see out of both eyes?"

"Sure," said Hank. "He's got good eyes." Here he leaned forward, his eyes fairly scintillating with suppressed honesty. "One eye is particularly good!"

Hank's enthusiasm for the truth had carried him too far. The deal was off. —Tulsa (Okla.) Post.

Hair Monstrosities.

French theater managers in the eighteenth century had worse evils than picture hats to contend against. Marie Antoinette, who was short, even according to French standards, set the fashion of high coiffures and ultra-fashionable women prided themselves on measuring four feet from their chins to the tops of their heads. These structures took about six hours to erect, the hairdresser mounting a ladder in the process. Some coiffures were almost as broad as they were long, with wings sticking out about eight inches on each side of the head. For the "frigate" coiffure the hair was rippled in a huge pile to represent the waves of an angry sea and surmounted by a fully rigged ship. As a consequence of these monstrosities, disturbances in theaters occurred almost daily until an ordinance was issued against the admission of women with high coiffures to the floor of the house.

Three Curious Bells.

There is a curious legend connected with the bells of Messingham church. It is said that a long, long time ago a traveler was passing through Messingham when he noticed three men sitting on a stile in the churchyard and saying, "Come to church, Thompson; come to church, Brown," and so on. Being very much surprised, he asked what it meant and was told that, having no bells, they called folks to church in this way. The traveler remarked that it was a pity so fine a church should be without bells and at the same time asked the men if they could make three for the church, promising to pay for them himself. They undertook to do this. They were respectively a tinker, a carpenter and a shoemaker. When next the traveler passed that way he found the three men ringing three bells which said, "Ting, tong, pluff," being made respectively of tin, wood and leather!—London Tit-Bits.

Calling on Tennyson.

A young American girl, who with her mother had called at Farringford to see the famous poet Tennyson, but was not received, shortly after expressed her regret to Mrs. Cameron, Tennyson's neighbor, who was also his intimate friend and a lady at once charming and masterful.

"Oh, so he wouldn't see you!" cried Mrs. Cameron indignantly. "Come with me!"

She took the reluctant American straight back to Tennyson's house and, without knocking or ringing, went into the room where he sat with his wife.

"Alfred," said she as the two looked up, startled, "these strangers came from a far country to see the lion of Freshwater, and behold—a bear!"

Tennyson burst out laughing and became amiable at once.

Taking a Chance.

The mistress was giving Harriet the benefit of her advice and counsel touching a momentous step the latter contemplated.

"Of course, Harriet," said the lady of the house, "if you intend to get married that's your own business, but you mustn't forget that marriage is a very serious matter."

"Yis, mum," said Harriet; "yis, mum, I know 'tis sometimes, mum. But, mum, maybe I'll have better luck than you did, mum."—Brooklyn Life.

His Nationality.

The little girl had come home from school and was telling the family about a certain stout man that had lectured to them in the morning. When through her father said:

"What nationality was the man, daughter?"

"Broken English," she replied.—Exchange.

He—I wonder what your father will say when I ask him for your hand. She—Don't worry about that, dear. He rehearsed it with me this morning, and he does it beautifully.

Consistency.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments

I am a woman
I know woman's sufferings
I have found the cure.

I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pains in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney, and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that, it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial: and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again Address

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL GREENSBORO

They certainly do believe in rotation in office in France. A new cabinet has just been organized making about the fiftieth in the comparatively brief history of the republic.

The meat packers say that beef will drop ten per cent. in price in a year and pork 25 per cent. The reason they give is the bumper crop of corn, but the real reason may be that they are getting scared. There is great popular feeling against the meat trust and it is a question if that feeling can be allayed by any temporary reduction in the price of meat.

There is speculation in some quarters as to whether Dr. J. M. Faison, Democrat, or George Butler, Republican, will be elected to Congress in the Third district. Two years ago the Democratic majority was 3,648 and in view of that we don't see what room the Republicans have to hope to win. It is said that Dr. Faison is personally not an attractive man, but allowing for that, the Democratic majority is clearly too large to be overcome. And we are inclined to think that much of his lack of popularity is in the imaginatioo of a few disgruntled Democrats, chronic kickers, so to speak, rather than in fact. Not only so, but the Republican candidate is a brother of the best hated man in the State and necessarily will lose some votes on that account. There is not the ghost of a chance that Dr. Faison will not be the next Congressman from the Third.

Of course there can be no ground in reason for the claim by the Republicans that their man Blair will be elected to Congress from this district. Mr. Morehead won by the narrow margin of 350 votes. He had everything in his favor—his own party united, the Democrats badly divided, and a general trend toward Republican policies, that party not being thoroughly discredited then as it is now. Conditions are entirely reversed this year: It is the Republicans, and not the Democrats, who are divided; it is the Democrats and not the Republicans, who are militant and united; and the pendulum of the national public opinion has swung to the Democratic side. A glance at the political complexion of the counties is quite enuogh to show that Major Stedman will be elected. Of the eleven counties in the district only Stokes and Surry are normally Republican, all the rest being normally Democratic and some of them by overwhelming majorities. There will be more than enough old soldier Republican votes cast for Maj. Stedman to overcome the Republican majority of two years ago.

Columbus, Ga., Nov. 3.—Declaring in a note to his wife "my health is not good; my business is gone and I am almost worried to death," James L. Treadaway, a prominent real estate man, shot himself through the heart at noon today at his office, dying instantly. He was 60 years of age and had lived in Columbus for 42 years.

What a sad mistake the poor fellow made! How much better it would have been to let the business go and attend to his health! Or maybe he could have taken a less radical course by stopping the worrying. But even if it had been necessary to fail in business, that is immeasurably less of a calamity than to commit the double crime of self-murder and leaving a family without a husband and father. The question also arises, Does the publication of an item like the above suggest suicide to others? It is contended by some that it does, but we doubt it. No one can read such an item without realizing more keenly than he ever did before what an awful mistake a man makes who speeds his own soul into eternity. No one can read it without putting himself in imagination in the dead man's place and then rejoicing that it is only fancy, that he is still in the flesh and that those who care for him will have to bear no such sorrow as that which shrouds in gloom the home of a suicide. The publication of instances of suicide tends to prevent it rather than to encourage it.

ARE VOTES FOR WOMEN WORTH WHILE?

Are votes for women worth while? It is not exactly man's business to decide, though he and his vote constitute the machinery by which the decision will be made if it ever has to be made at all. Man's business, as it concerns women, is to provide, in so far as lies in him, that she shall not regret being born into this world a woman and not a man. His concern is to see that she has in so far as he can manage it, as full and satisfying a life as he has himself, a life unlike his, but not less richly endowed than his with the opportunity for full development. That responsibility man in ordinary circumstances takes with a good deal of philosophy, being much disposed to get all he can, and let woman help her herself to such a share of it as she is inclined to convert to her use. This method seems to work pretty well. I think the great majority of American women are still as nearly satisfied with it as they hope to be with things in this world. But a very considerable fraction of them in England and a very active if not considerable fraction of them here insist nowadays that their life is not as full nor their opportunities as ample as they should be, and that they won't be until woman gets the right to vote.

This disposition, when it has gone on long enough and been expounded with sufficient vigor on enough platforms and in enough newspapers, tends after a while to make man a bit uneasy, and brings him into the condition of continually taking stock of himself and his belongings to see what he has got that woman wants, and whether he has got enough—whether there is enough in life—to satisfy her.

For every wise man knows that one of the things most worth while is to command the active, willing, and intelligent co-operation of women in the management of human affairs. He must have it. There is no price, consistent with human progress and the persistence of humanity, that is too great for him to pay for it. If woman ought to have an immediate, instead of an indirect, share of political power, of course it is only a matter of time when American women will have it. In the long run, nothing that they want is going to be denied them that is in the gift of American men.—E. S. Martin in Harper's Magazine for November.

Chrysanthemum Show.

Prepared for The Telegram.

The chrysanthemum show held by the Women of West Market Street Methodist church is just one week off. They specially call attention to the fact that every lady who desires to do so, can enter flowers, fancy work and cakes. The cakes will be donated to the show after judges decide who wins the prizes. Let every one enter the contest. The ladies will appreciate the different entries. List of prizes can be obtained from Greensboro Drug Co., Holton's Drug Co., and Conyers' Drug Co. Place for show will be announced in a day or so. Come in and help us!

Death of Child.

Elsie Maden, the seven months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Maden, who live four miles northwest of town, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The funeral will take place at the residence at 10 a. m. today and will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Goode, of Summerfield. Interment will be at Guilford College.

MAJOR STEDMAN'S APPOINTMENTS.

Hon. Chas. M. Stedman, Democratic candidate for Congress, will address the voters of this district at the following times and places:

Greensboro, Monday night, Nov. 7, at 7:30.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Health Officer Says City Did Not Dump Trash and Garbage In Fisher Park.

Editor Telegram.

In regard to cleaning the city and dumping the garbage in or near Fisher Park, yes we did clean the city, and hauled off many loads of refuse, but the first thing we did was to secure permission from a property owner outside the city to dump the garbage on his premises in a secluded place and everything the city had hauled was carried there and I want to say to the party who made the statement in yesterday's Telegram and was unwilling to give his name that the city threw or had anyone to throw refuse in or near Fisher Park that the statement is false and without foundation. I find some people living in Greensboro who are so selfish and prejudiced against the city that they don't call the city garbage wagon to remove their refuse but will themselves or get some careless person to throw their garbage in the most convenient place they can find, and I am sure that is why the garbage was thrown near Fisher Park. We have an ordinance against dumping garbage in the city, and I will give five dollars reward for information that will lead to the conviction of anyone violating this ordinance.

We did clean the city and I can truthfully say that the city is now cleaner and in a more sanitary condition than I have ever seen it. I hope to see the time when all the citizens will look upon cleanliness as a mark of politeness for it is universally agreed upon that no one unadorned with this virtue can go into company without giving a manifest offense. The different nations of the world are as much distinguished by their cleanliness as by their arts and sciences. The more they are advanced in civilization the more they consult this part of politeness. Cleanliness may be said to be the foster mother of love. Beauty commonly produces love, but cleanliness preserves it. Age itself is not unamiable while it is preserved clean and unsullied. Cleanliness renders us agreeable to others. It makes us easy to ourselves, that it is an excellent preventive of health that several vices destructive both to mind and body are inconsistent with the habit of it. I am sure that cleanliness bears great analogy with purity of mind and naturally inspires to refined sentiments and passions. Pure and unsullied thoughts are naturally suggested to the mind by those objects that perpetually encompass us when they are beautiful and elegant of their kind.

MAJ. STEDMAN CLOSES CAMPAIGN MONDAY NIGHT

Spoke To a Magnificent Audience Last Night at High Point.

Major Stedman spoke to a magnificent audience last night at High Point and came back after the speaking delighted with the reception given him there. Monday night he will close the campaign with a speech in this city. He has made a thorough canvass of the district and has been making vote-winning speeches. He has been confident all along that he would be elected, but to the end that his majority might be as large as possible neither he nor his campaign manager, Mr. A. Wayland Cooke, has left anything undone that would tend to increase that majority.

Cameron Johnson Leaves, But Will Return.

Mr. Cameron Johnson, of Richmond, whose illustrated lectures on mission fields gave so much pleasure and profit here this week, went to Salisbury yesterday continuing his tour. Mr. Johnson will be back here Jan. 28 and 29 to give two illustrated lectures at the Normal College on British History. He will give the same lectures at Greensboro Female College on Feb. 3 and 4. On Feb. 8 he will give in this city for the benefit of Sunday school teachers an illustrated lecture on the Holy Land.

ADJUTANT PAUL GIVES UP SALVATION ARMY WORK

Goes To Florida To Take Secular Work—Poor Health of Wife Makes This Step Necessary.

Adjutant Paul, of the Salvation Army, left Thursday night for Lake City, Fla., to accept employment. The health of Mrs. Paul is so poor that they decided to give up active work in the army for the present.

She is just out of the hospital after an operation and is not at all strong. Until Major White, of Atlanta, can send regular officers here, Sergeant Spanolia will be in charge of the local post. Mrs. Paul will join her husband at Lake City in a few days. Adjutant Paul requests The Telegram to express to the people of Greensboro the thanks of himself and his wife for the very kind treatment accorded them here. They state that they learned to love Greensboro and regret exceedingly to be compelled to give up their residence here.

Thanks The Fire Department.

Editor Telegram:

We take this method of expressing our thanks to Greensboro's splendid Fire Department and our appreciation of their noble efforts to save our stock in Thursday night's fire. They could not have responded more promptly than they did, nor was it possible for more effective work to be done. We can offer our testimony to the fact that Greensboro has a right to be proud of its Fire Department.

RAILROAD CO. GETS CHARTER

Will Connect Spray And Ridgeway, Va.

Will Be Twenty Two Miles Long—Capital Stock $500,000—A. H. Boyden Appointed Director of Soldiers' Home—Damage Suit In Wake Superior Court.

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—The North Carolina and Virginia Railroad Co., with $500,000 capital, was chartered today for the construction and operation of a railroad from Spray, in Rockingham county, N. C., to Ridgeway, Henry county, Va. The road is to be six miles in North Carolina and sixteen milese in Virginia with the capitalization to be not less than $5,000 per mile of road. The incorporators are J. D. Huffines, of Rockingham county; P. W. Glidewell, Rockingham, P. W. Smith and others of New York.

The Independent Love and Union Association also receives a charter with principal office at Ayden, Pitt county, for mutual benefit and insurance purposes. There is no capital stock, probably a half hundred negroes being the incorporators.

Dr. D. E. Everett, of Raleigh, has advised Governor Kitchin that it is impossible for him to serve as a director of the North Carolina Soldier's home, to which he was appointed a few weeks ago to succeed the late A. B. Stronach and the Governor has commissioned A. H. Boyden, of Salisbury, in his stead.

The Wake County Superior court is hearing just now the damage suit of B. W. Goodwin, of Greenville, vs. the Norfolk and Southern Railroad Co. in which $20,000 damages are demanded for a crushed foot. The accident occurred while Goodwin was adjusting couplings between two cars. The railroad company claims that Goodwin was injured by reason of his own carelessness.

Gov. Kitchin today commissioned R. M. Nelson, of Lillington, as an additional delegate to the National Monitary Conference to be held November 11 and 12 in New York in connection with Academy of Political Science.

WOMAN OUTWITS BURGLAR

Bluffs Him With Pretended Revolver and Has Him Arrested.

Daily Dklahoman.

Unarmed and alone, but maintaining her nerve and self-possession, Mrs. Sarah T. Wolfenberger, 500 West Twelfth street, early yesterday afternoon, not only prevented a man, said to be one of the most notorous burglars in the Southwest, from ransacking her house, but bluffed the man into believing she had a gun, and held him prisoner until the officers arrived.

The man was Frank Clemmons, a convict, who has served terms in a number of penitentiaries for burglary. When caught by Mrs. Wolfenberger he begged and pleaded with the plucky woman to release him, fearing any attempt at escape on his part would force her to use the gun which he thought she possessed.

The robber entered through the back window, when he met Mrs. Wolfenberger. She commanded him to sit down, intimating that she had a revolver and would use it. Clemmons unprepared for the reception, did as he was told, and afterward stated that he believed the woman had a gun.

By calling a neighbor, a gun was brought into play, and the man was covered while Mrs. Wolfenberger telephoned to police headquarters. Officer Charles Farris went to the home and proceeded with the burglar to headquarters, where he was identified by Bertillon Officer Harry Stege and held on a charge of attempted burglary.

In hi spocket were discharge papers from the Texas penitentiary, where he had served four years for burglary, committed in Fort Worth, Texas, in 1906 being released October 12, 1910.

Funeral This Afternoon.

The funeral of Mr. Jesse Kingleman, whose death was mentioned yesterday morning, will take place at Proximity cemetery this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The services will be in charge of White Oak Council, Junior Order, of which the deceased was a member.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND FREE TEXT BOOKS.

Prof. Whitaker Points Out That In Past They Have Been Enemies of Educational Interests.

Editor Telegram:

The platform of the Republican party in North Carolina declares for free text books for use in the public schools, and Republican orators are declaiming against the Democratic party because its platform does not contain a similar plank. Unless the Republican party has undergone a change of heart, since the Legislatures of 1901 and 1903, this plank was inserted because it knew that, by no possibility, would it be called upon to perform, as a party in the state, any of its declarations, and, therefore, could promise the earth, and the fullness thereof. But men and parties are to be judged by their records. Two bills vitally affecting the interests of education were passed by the Democratic Legislature of 1901; one to appropriate money to establish libraries in the rural public schools; and the other to provide a uniform system of text books for the public schools, these text books to be selected from sealed competitive bids of book publishers, by a text book commission; character of text, of printing, as well as price of books to be considered. The Republicans voted against the Library bill, saying it would be a "waste of the people's money to put libraries in the country schools." They voted against the Text Book bill, offering no excuse on floor of House or Senate. It was "agin their principles," no doubt, no doubt, and a most powerful lobby, in the pay of rich book companies, was there. The bill would save the people money, but the old adage, "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush," was, perhaps, not forgotten by some of the "statesmen." The rural libraries have blessed thousands of country homes; and by the Text Book bill more than half a million dollars has been saved to the purchasers of school books, in addition to the economy of time, and added efficiency of teachers.

During the Legislature of 1903, a bill was introduced to enable the State to loan money, derived from the sale of State lands, to public school districts, for the purpose of building school houses, the amount to be loaned not to exceed one-half the cost of the house; the loan to be amply secured, and to be paid in ten annual installments, interest four per cent. Surely, not even a North Carolina Republican could vote against this bill. But almost to a man they did vote against it, although rural school houses were poor; and sometimes there was no school for a winter or two, that sufficient funds might accumulate to build a better house. But the bill became a law, and has assisted in the building of more than 1500 school houses. With the record of the two parties before the people, it is easy to see which one is friendly to the educational interests of the State.

"He's All Right; He Has Money in the Bank"

How many times has each of us heard this or similar expression! If we go around much we hear it nearly every day. And yet so few of us really take it to heart.

If a young man gets into trouble, a bank account will pull him out. If he gets sick or injured it will pay the doctor's or druggist's bills. If he wants to buy a few shares of stock in the Company for which he works, and thereby strengthen his position, he can do it. All these things, and a hundred more, can be done with a snug bank account—but one must SAVE in order to have that account.

Better start today and save your money. We pay interest at the rate of 4 per cent, and assure the absolute safety of every dollar deposited here.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Report—Case of Mr. B. Grimes, Clear Lake, Wis.—a well developed case, albumen nearly twenty-five per cent.—loss in weight—incapacitated, could hardly get around. Treatment changed and put on Renal Comp. Feb. 12, 1909—between six and seven weeks before improvement was noted. Case began to respond about the seventh week—improvement thereafter steady. On Aug. 15, 1909, Dr. Goodwin reported the last trace of alubumen had disappeared. September 15, '09, still no albumen and patient feeling so well that the above report was sent in voluntarily.

The agent employed in the above case was Fulton's Renal Compound. Where it is administered before the heart has broken down and there is still recuperative power, Chronic Bright's Disease, even in its most stubborn and supposed incurable forms, commonly yields, and physicians are more and more discarding futile Digitalis, Nitro Glycerine, Basham's Mixture, etc., under which the deaths have doubled, and are saving lives with this treatment.

The new emollient treatment, Fulton's Renal Compound, can be had in Greensboro from Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Literature mailed free. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery St., San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

"A NERVOUS WRECK"

"My daughter is rapidly becoming a nervous wreck," said an anxious father to a friend who happened to be a druggist,—"she has no appetite, is run-down, weak, takes no interest in anything, and we cannot find anything that helps her."

"Why don't you give her Vinol"—said the druggist—"it is not a secret nostrum, just a simple and delicious cod liver and iron tonic— and the best strength creator and general all round tonic we have ever sold in our store. Take a bottle home and try it. We'll return your money if it does not help her."

Within ten days the father came back for another bottle of Vinol, saying that he had never seen such a change in a girl in his life, and he felt sure one more bottle of Vinol would restore her to her normal condition."

Such cases as the above are constantly coming to our attention, and we ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person in this vicinity, and every person suffering from a chronic cough, cold, or bronchial trouble, to try a bottle of Vinol on the same terms as above. Major De Rudio, Who Tried to Assassinate an Emperor, Dead.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 3.—Major Charles C. De Rudio, U. S. A., retired, died yesterday at his home at the age of 78 years.

Born in Italy in 1832, Major De Rudio began a turbulent career by allying himself with Garibaldi while still hardly more than a boy.

From Italy he went with three companions to Paris, where the four attempted to kill Napoleon III and Empress Eugenie with bombs. For this three of them were sentenced to be guillotined.

Pieri, one of the conspirators, was executed first and De Rudio was next. He had said farewell to his wife and child and was ready to die. As a last favor he asked that he be allowed a pipeful of tobacco. The executioner filled the pipe for the doomed man, placed it in his mouth and furnished a light. Then came a reprieve.

De Rudio's young wife had so impresed the English Eugenie with her tearful pleas for her husband's life that the Empress, failing to win the mercy from Napoleon III, had issued orders herself that the execution should be stopped.

When Napoleon III learned of De Rudio's return from death he was furious. He and the Empress had a violent quarrel. DeRudio was tried once more and again condemned to die. By this time the Emperor's wrath had cooled and the tears of the Empress were too much for him, so he commuted the sentence to life imprisonment in one of France's penal settlements. There De Rudio spent more than five years, and then by taking advantage of a series of queer happenings he managed to escape to America.

He joined Company A, of the Seventy-ninth New York Volunteers as a private, fought under General Grant and when he was mustered out in 1865 he was second lieutenant of the Second United States Infantry. In August, 1867, he joined the regular army and was appointed second lieutenant of infantry. Two years later he was assigned to the Seventh Cavalry and under Custer saw much Indian fighting.

In 1876 De Rudio was with Custer's command that was massacreed at the Little Big Horn.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

The Salon.

The French academy was originally a junction of the drawing rooms of the Marquise de Rambouillet and her daughter, Julie d'Angennes, Duchesse de Montausier. The salon as a meeting place for conversation and the production of beaux esprits and writers hardly existed before these ladies opened that of the Hotel de Rambouillet. Prior to this social event women of tiptop quality and rich bourgeoises received their company in their bedrooms. There was nothing answering to the English parlor or the Italian hall of conversation. The bed, as in the sleeping room of Louis XIV., was surrounded by a balustrade, outside of which gentlemen who had dropped in to visit remained standing. It would have been shockingly unmannerly of them to step over the barrier. The lady of the house, dressed in her best dishabille, sat on the edge of the bed. Ladies calling went within the balustrade and sat on folding stools, or hassocks, according to rank and age. Mme. de Lafayette painted from life in describing in "La Princesse de Cleves" a conversation on love, in which the dauphiness took the lead, reclining on her bed.—London Truth.

Why're You Waiting?

Today's the day to begin. Get some of the business advantage that's waiting for you in the classified columns of the Telegram. They are square, live, enterprising people, and they are offering special values to you. Most of the offers are open to only one taker,—and that's the best kind of an offer,—it always means special advantage and excellent value. But it means more than that. It means that if you want these extra values, you must act on them quickly. Read The Telegram classified ads every day. Get the habit.

When You Buy Sox—Think of Your Wife

Next time you buy sox remember this fact—your wife will appreciate "Holeproof." If you take common hose she will have to darn them every week. If you insist on "Holeproof" she will have no darning to do for six months.

It costs no more to get the genuine "Holeproof." Don't let anyone sell you an imitation—think how your wife will have to sit up nights for six months to keep them mended.

Insist on "Holeproof" and see how surprised and delighted your wife will be for the next half year.

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The makers have spent 31 years to reach this perfection in hosiery. So remember when others offer to imitate the guarantee they can't imitate the quality.

They pay 63 cents a pound for the best Egyptian and Sea Island cotton. Others often use common cotton at 12 cents a pound.

The yarn is 3-ply in the body and 6-ply in the heels, toes and knees. Others use 2-ply throughout. But you pay the same price for both.

"Holeproof" is shaped to fit the ankle as neatly as a glove fits the hand. The fabric is soft and comfortable—it is simply perfection in hosiery.

Ask our clerks to show you the hosiery. It comes in eleven colors for men, six for women and two for children. Prices from $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Come in and see it today.

LONDON MAILS BY AEROPLANE

Plan to Shorten Transatlantic Time By Half Day.

New York, Nov. 3.—Plans for reducing the time, by the use of the aeroplanes, in the transportation of mails between England and New York to four days or less were today announced by the Hamburg-American Line.

The company is already fitting its new sea monster, the Europe, which is to be the largest liner afloat, with aeroplane facilities. To demonstrate the feasibility of aerial mail service, Aviator J. A. D. McCurdy will next Saturday make the first experiment of flying with a bag of mail in his aeroplane to New York from the deck of the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria at a point 50 miles out to sea.

If the feat is successful,, the company declares it will at once push its plans for cutting down the mail-carrying record of the Mauretania and Lusitania, which is now something over 4 days and 16 hours. By the use of aeroplanes, which would have a speed of 50 or 60 miles an hour, the company believes that the last 50 or 100 miles of the transatlantic trip can be done in just half the time necessary for the liner.

In addition, the company, should the experiment prove successful, is considering the advisability of having the aeroplanes land at Montauk Point, the eastern extremity of Long Island, from which place they would be rushed to New York by fast train. The aircrafts, starting from a point 50 to 100 miles still farther east of Montauk Point, the company asserts, would easily reduce the time across the Atlantic for mails to less than four days.

The flight to be made Saturday by McCurdy will be in a Curtiss biplane. The machine has already been sent to the Hamburg-American's pier and the Kaiserin is being fitted with a launching platform. When the vessel sails Saturday for the experiment, it will be accompanied by a flotilla and private yachts that will render any assistance to the aviator should he meet with mishap on the flight back. The Kaiserin will then continue her trip.

MISS MILHOLLAND, CHALKER.

Decorated a Broadway Sidewalk on Her Knees for the Cause.

New York Sun.

Something new came to Broadway yesterday in the form of a tall, slender, willowy maiden, who knelt on the sidewalk in front of the Hotel Normandie and chalked suffrage slogans on the pavement while her sable stole swept up the dust shaken from the feet of the passersby and her muff to match wobbled on its silken cord.

It was Miss Inez Milholland who decorated the great White Way, and those who saw her begin her inscriptions stayed until they were all finished. They regarded her with admiration as she leaped lightly up from her task and listened to the Vassar English in which she spoke to them of the cause and what it meant to women. Many of those who had tarried accepted her invitation to come in the Belmont headquarters and look over the literature and buy a button.

Shall Women Vote?

Guilty Anyway.

The most striking instance of a vanished man coming again to light to take part in legal proceedings is that which occurred in a case where Daniel O'Connell was defending a man indicted for murder. The case for the prosecution seemed as clear as possible, and O'Connell contented himself with fewer questions than were to have been expected of so eminent a cross examiner. When the case for the crown had closed he announced that he had but one witness to call, but that witness was important to the case. He was the murdered man, very much alive. There was no doubting the man's identity—everybody knew it. The judge therefore turned to the jury and directed them to acquit the prisoner. To his amazement, however, they returned a verdict of guilty. Asked for an explanation, the foreman observed that they had no doubt that the prisoner was innocent of the murder. "But," he added, "we find him guilty of sthealing my ould gray mare three weeks ago."

All that glitters isn't gold, especially glittering generalities.

Law and Geography.

From the half timers' papers written at a recent term examination: "Some of the chief inventions of the last 150 years are having an act so that no person under fourteen years must go into the public house. Another act was so that no person under the age of sixteen years must smoke cigars, pipes and cigarettes, and no person under that age can be served with any. My brother Bill is now all right for this invention. He was sixteen last week." Here is a geography answer: "The river system of Canada is what you might call very good, but sometimes they shoot the rapids, and unless you are a red Indian this is very troublesome at times, especially when you get sucked under like Captain Webb."—Manchester Guardian.

The Earliest Cigars.

The earliest mention of cigars in English occurs in a book dated 1735. A traveler in Spanish America named Cockburn, whose narrative was published in that year, describes how he met three friars at Nicaragua, who, he says, "gave us some segars to smoke; these are Leaves of Tobacco rolled up in such Manner that they serve both for a Pipe and Tobacco itself; they know no other way here, for there is no such Thing as a Tobacco Pipe throughout New Spain."

Sure Sign.

"What is the sign when a man parts his hair in the middle?" said the old fellow in the front row of the orchestra to a friend loud enough to be heard by the young man behind them.

"It's a sign that he's not baldheaded," replied the young man, leaning forward.—Yonkers Statesman.

Hard Luck.

"Poor man, your life must be full of hardships!"

"'Ow true yer words are, lidy! Only t'other day I picked up a ticket for a ball an' couldn't use it cos I hadn't got a evenin' suit."—London Ideas.

A Tragic Crisis.

Cholly had put on his necktie and was looking over his supply of hosiery. "I wonder, now," he said, turning pale, "whether the socks have to match the tie or whether the tie has to match the socks."—Chicago Tribune.

Her Great Grief.

Cholly—May I have the next waltz? Widow—Yes, but dance slowly, as I only recently have gone into mourning.—Club Fellow.

Lots of alleged golden opportunities wouldn't stand the acid test.

Whitewashing Whitewash.

"I think you said, 'Rastus, that you had a brother in the mining business in the West?"

"Yeh, boss, that's right."

"What kind of mining—gold mining, silver mining, copper mining?"

"No sah, none o' those; kalsomining."—Everybody's Magazine.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

REMEMBER THAT WHEN

you entrust TRUST FUNDS with the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company those funds are invested, at its discretion, in the following classes of property. Bonds of the United States. Bonds of any State. Bonds duly authorized to be issued by any county or incorporated city. In fact any securities which seem in the judgment of the officers of the Trust Company good and secure. But that is not all. If any investment happened by some mischance to prove not gilt-edge, the investment is at the sole risk of the Company and for any losses sustained by reason of poor investments of trust funds the entire capital stock, property and effects of the Company are absolutely liable. This makes you always safe. There is more security in a trust company than any individual can offer.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE BANK

GREENSBORO, N. C.

A Lucky Man

HOW often do we hear people say: "He is lucky." This is one of the popular errors which has gained a considerable foothold. The lucky man is the man who works diligently and uses careful judgment in handling his money. The richest men in the world were, strange to say, almost the poorest boys. There is no limit to what can be done in accumulating a substantial fortune if prudence and diligence are exercised.
